Starting a New Business? Growing Pains with an Existing One?

If you dream of starting your own business – or are already in business – the Kings Regional Development Agency can help through its partnership in a small business counselling program delivered by the Acadia Centre for Social and Business Entrepreneurship (ACSBE).

ACSBE's business counselors help aspiring and existing business owners achieve their goals through effective planning and guidance. They lead clients as they research their idea, help them understand the variables that may affect the idea, and then develop an action plan that works for them. While starting a new business can be a rewarding experience, it may also have many risks and unknowns. The success of any business initiative is usually tied very closely to the effort put forth in developing a realistic and informed business plan.

For more information on ACSBE's small business counselling or consulting services, please contact Helen Abel by phone at 585-1655 or e-mail helen.abel@acadiu.ca.
